2017 KEYNOTE SPEAKER:
STEVE EICHEL, PH.D.
PRESIDENT, INTERNATIONAL CULTIC STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Everyone knows that sex and sexuality played a very significant role in Sigmund Freud's development of the first official "talk therapy," psychoanalysis. Yet his understanding of sex, sexual problems and sexually inappropriate or offending behavior was utterly rudimentary, and many of his followers added little that was valid or accurate. The science of sex (sexology) began with Alfred Kinsey, and continues to this day and into the future, although for political reasons, much of the cutting-edge research is now occurring outside the U.S.A.

In this presentation, Dr. Steve K. D. Eichel, a licensed and Board-certified Psychologist, sex therapist, sexologist, NAFC-Certified Sex Offender Treatment Specialist, and recognized sex offender evaluator, will review the strange and interesting history of sexual science, with a strong focus on what we know and what we are still learning now.

From 1988-89 he assessed juvenile and adult sex offenders for the Camden County (NJ) court system, and was a contracted sex offender evaluator for the Psycho-forensic Services unit of Delaware's Office of the Public Defender from 2006-2010. Since then, he has conducted dozens of offender evaluations for private attorneys and their clients and, due to his nationally-recognized expertise in the psychology of destructive cults and manipulation, has conducted evaluations in several cases involving cult-coerced sex, sex offending, and human sex trafficking. As Clinical Director of St. Francis Homes for Boys, he designed and conducted both group and individual treatment for adjudicated adolescent boys who engaged in inappropriate sexual behavior.
